

FOR THE TRAVEL TRADE

balmerino™

We are a small, traditional family run farm located in Fife off the beaten track in a picturesque setting, offering stunning views over the River Tay.

Within easy reach for guests travelling through the central belt, we invite them to our ancient farm that has changed little over the past 200 years.

We are organic, nature-friendly livestock farmers who also process wool from our flock from farm to yarn and we love to share our story of farming with nature with your clients.

Our sheep flock and products are called balmerino™. The sheep are a combination of a Merino crossed with other Scottish breeds, a cross that has the hardiness to thrive in the Scottish climate and additionally produces fine, luxurious wool, so soft it can be worn next to the skin. The flock are managed organically, certified by the Soil Association and certified by Pasture For Life.
